

The cybersecurity industry's testing standard community

AMTSO Code of Conduct

Last Updated: 2023-11-09

Members of AMTSO, including our officers, directors and advisory board members, should act with respect toward each other and our organization, and encourage others to similarly act with respect, following AMTSO's policies and procedures and the law. Specifically, AMTSO members should:

1. Act with respect toward others.

- a. Do not engage in behaviour, or tolerate others engaging in behaviour, that includes any direct or indirect:
 - Sexual harassment
 - Discrimination
 - Generally abusive or disrespectful behaviour.
- b. Act with respect toward current and former AMTSO members.
- c. Act with respect toward AMTSO presenters; follow the presenter's confidentiality requests and ground rules.

2. Act with respect toward AMTSO.

- a. Understand and follow AMTSO policies and procedures.
- b. Respect AMTSO's confidentiality.
- c. Respect AMTSO's resources, including tools and guidelines.
- d. Do not speak or represent yourself on behalf of AMTSO without specific authorization.

3. Act with respect toward the law.

- a. Comply with applicable state, location and national legal requirements, including laws related to antitrust and anti-competitive behaviour.